EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA :::::::: JULY 23.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of calls, yesterday, from Dr. Lipscomb, friend Fitch, of the Griffin Star, and Mr. Anderson, of Forsyth.

The Dead of the Synod of Georgia.

BY JOHN S. WILSON, D. D.

The Reverend Doctor Wilson, has furnished us with the second installment of the above interesting work, which abates none in interest. The work is very handsomely gotten up. The present volume contains sketches of the Rev. Donald J. Auld, Benjamin Burroughs, Samuel Jones Cassels, R. Chamberlain, Alonzo Church, Benjamin D. DuPree, George Claudius Fleming, Thomas Goulding, John Harrison, Richard Hooke.

The biographies are very interesting indeed. The sketch of Dr. Church is particularly graphic. He was born in Vermont, in 1773, graduated at 20, settled in Eatonton in 1816, and became President of the State University in 1829, which office he held for 30 years, until 1859. He graduated 646 alumni. His services as an educator and minister, have fixed a rare halo upon his name. Dr. Church died in 1862 at the ripe age of 69.

The price of the pamphlet is 50 cents. We commend the book to our readers.

STATE CORRESPONDENCE.

Educational Notes—A few Additional about the Lucy Cobb Institute.

Any readers of THE CONSTITUTION who are going to be so fortunate as to attend the next Annual Commencement at Athens University, must not neglect a visit to the Young Ladies' College in the vicinity. Since my last notice of this institution, the report of its Board of Trustees who have elsewhere expressed their satisfaction at the aspect things present under the excellent management of the Rev. Ferdinand Jacobs, principal; the unanimous sentiment of approval uttered by the South Carolina deputation which has recently visited it, and the recognition from abroad, of the Institution by a valuable present of maps, have attested the truth of the statements I then made.

I cannot but remember with pleasure, its handsome exterior and commodious rooms, its suites of apartments for musical instruction, drawing and painting, and its elegant, capacious Concert Hall, which, at the last May, was, and will be at the coming exhibition, crowded to its utmost capacity.

If any record can attest the fitness of a man for the position he occupies, surely that of the Principal of this Collegiate Institution does. Formerly, Professor of Mathematics in Oglethorpe University; subsequently, and, till the war, Principal of a flourishing female seminary in Charleston, S. C., and during the war, President of the Laurensville Female College, S. C., he took charge of this Institute in January last. The former of these female schools, under his administration, reached the number of 140 pupils—beginning with only 20; the latter, beginning with 40, increased to 200. Emulating these examples, the Lucy Cobb has entered upon a career which bids fair to surpass them. The prospects are signally encouraging. There is an apple, perhaps grafted from those which, in the ancient myth, won Atalanta. It is called, "Seek-no-Further." It is the Lucy Cobb. "EARNEST."

The Atlanta CONSTITUTION says: "On Marietta street there is a saloon at which five waiter girls preside, dispensing intoxicating fluids to their guests. There is, also, a band of music in attendance, who assist to beguile the innocent. What are we coming to?"

We can't say what you are "coming to," but we think you are going to be——ppo. [Warrenton Clipper.

We don't believe that the Commandant at this Post has made the lying report that is alleged to him, but, if he did make it, we defy him to produce a single instance where the "laws have been violated outrageously, and the civil authorities have been entirely silent.—Ibid.

A man named Brazzel and his son, living in Glassecck county were tied to a tree and whipped, on the 16th instant, for stealing a trunk, pistol, $90 in greenbacks, etc., from a negro named Warren Kitchens. Brazzel and family came from South Carolina, and have been scouring around the county since Christmas. They bear a bad and disreputable character.

The Atlanta Slander Mill would grind a "horrible outrage on a Union man and his family" out of this, but unfortunately for the mill, Kitchens is a negro and the Brazzels are white Democrats.—Ibid.

THE NEW RAILROAD PROJECT.—We alluded briefly yesterday to the project of a railroad from Tennille, in Washington county, through Milledgeville and Eatonton directly to Atlanta. The project, according to our best information, originated in the latter place, and is proposed as an extension of the Air-Line road from Cincinnati to Chattanooga, and thence by the nearest route to the Atlantic coast. It is said that the new road will effect a saving of from thirty-five to forty miles, and consequently, a corresponding reduction in time and charges. We have not conferred with the authorities of the Central railroad about the matter, but learn from pretty good sources, that they have been approached on the subject by parties in Atlanta, and that they are inclined to think favorably of the enterprise. What is asked of them is the construction of a line from Tennille (No. 13) to Milledgeville—some twenty-five miles. The Milledgeville and Eatonton branch is already in operation, and other parties agree to undertake and complete that portion of the road that will lie between Eatonton and Atlanta. Should this plan be finally agreed upon, the Central road will probably break up the line from Gordon to Milledgeville, and use the iron and other available appurtenances on the road between Tennille and Milledgeville, by which means the latter can be constructed with trifling cost to the company. The completion of the Macon and Augusta road will render the branch from Gordon comparatively useless.

We shall probably hear more of this matter, and be able to speak advisedly in the course of a few days.—Ibid.

OFFICE OF THE GREENSBORO' HERALD, July 20, 1869.

FIVE DOLLARS REWARD!—Suddenly disappeared from this office, on Thursday of last week, one H. M. Burns, editor of this paper. When last seen, he was in good health and spirits, and had just donned his Sunday suit. Having been absent now for nearly five days, without being heard from, his friends are apprehensive of foul play, fearing that he has been captured by some woman on account of his beauty, or being recognized as editor of the "Herald," that he has been murdered for his money. If any one knows of the whereabouts of the said H. M. Burns, they will confer a favor on his distressed friends by addressing a few lines to the Greensboro' Herald.

P. S. Since writing the above we learn, through a friend just arrived in our city, that Mr. Burns "still lives," and is in the neighborhood of Atlanta receiving the addresses of a young widow. The above reward will be paid to any one who will arrest and deliver him safely at this office, as from what we have recently learned, he is evidently in a state of non compos mentis. [Greensboro' Herald.

The Floyd Superior Court has seven hundred cases on its docket.—Rome Courier.

The adjourned term of the Gordon Superior Court will not be held.—Dalton Citizen.

CROPS AND WEATHER.—Early corn, potatoes, and gardens are suffering for rain. The weather remains dry and dusty, though a constant mountain breeze makes our little city pleasant enough for the season. [Ibid.

The murrain still continues about Dalton. The Cherokee Manufacturing Company has changed hands. Telegraph lines are put up between Selma and Dalton. [Ibid.

The "Round Table"—Its Inner History.

We find the following in the St. Paul Dispatch. It was undoubtedly written by Mr. Charles H. Sweeter:

Very few persons have any idea of the expenditure required to establish a paper—daily or weekly. The retirement of the Round Table, which is announced by telegraph, suggests some reminiscences in this connection, that may be of general interest.

It is now five years since the Round Table was started. It was founded upon the idea embodied in the London Saturday Review, of independent, dignified criticism. The name was suggested by the Ancient Order of Knights, who gathered around the Imperial mahogany, and whose exploits Bulfinch has memorialized so elegantly. After the paper was ready for a start, it was held back two weeks waiting for a name. The first number was a literary success, its contributors, including William Henry Hurlburt, R. H. Stoddard, J. E. Hood, George Arnold, Prof. Chadbourne, J. H. Spalding, and other equally ably writers. In early numbers of the paper William C. Prime, George B. McClellan, F. J. Ottarson, D. J. Croly, "Jennie June," Eugene Benson, Prof. H. B. Smith, Dr. Noah Porter, and William Porter, had articles. These writers were paid from ten to twenty-five dollars per article. Justin Winson wrote the Boston letter, and Moncure Conway that from London. The weekly expenses were from six to eight hundred dollars, and the losses considerable. After seven months and ten thousand dollars expenditure, all the money that had been received for subscriptions and advertisements was returned and the paper suspended.

In a little more than six months the Round Table once more made its appearance, owned and edited as at first. The Nation also appeared at about the same time, backed by a capital of fifty thousand dollars. The comic paper, Mrs. Grundy, was also born at the same time, under the auspices of the New York Club. During its second career the Round Table attracted great attention by certain sensation articles, such as "False Calves." "Are Paper Collars Poisonous?" and "Drunkenness among Women." But these did not suffice to make it a business success. Every device was resorted to with a view to its permanent establishment, but still it lost money. The best writers in the country contributed to it, and many were the popular articles quoted from it. We note especially Hurlbut's "Purple Women," and Arnold's "Jolly Old Pedagogue." Ike Marvel, E. C. Steadman, and others, wrote for it some superb articles and poems. The months flew past, and the circulation of the paper held its own at about four thousand copies. There were several changes in the proprietorship, until it finally passed into the hands of Mr. Henry Sedley, as editor and proprietor. Mr. Sedley was once an editor on the old Courier and Enquirer, afterwards was a resident of London and a contributor to English journals, and was noted as one of the two leading chess players of the world. He is a tasteful, elegant writer, and will doubtless take a leading position on some New York daily. He would not be a bad successor to Mr. Raymond. The entire losses upon the paper, from first to last, were probably not less than thirty or forty thousand dollars.

The new purchaser of the Round Table, is Mr. Robert Roosevelt, the famous fisherman, and the owner of the Citizen. The two papers will be merged in one, and under Mr. Roosevelt's direction, will doubtless attain to new prosperity. The Nation has now the strictly literary and critical field all to itself. The Round Table will lose its old time peculiarities, and will hereafter be only a thing of memory. Surely it does seem as though this country might afford a sprightly, fearless, critical paper, such as was the Round Table.

We bid adieu to an old friend, at whose birth we assisted, and whose name it was our pleasant privilege to join in suggesting. But there are others who will feel even greater sadness than ourselves at the disappearance of a genial friend of days gone by.

The Herald's London special says, the compromise has resulted as feared, on the part of the House of Lords. The tory Lords held a large private meeting, and resolved to abandon Salisbury and follow Cairns, whom the meeting authorized to make peace with the Ministry. Prompt and loud expressions of popular indignation terrified the Lords, and thus the threatened agitation has been postponed.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 23.—The bullion has increased seven million francs.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, July 23.—There was a full attendance of the House of Lords and many of the House of Commons were present to-day. Lord Granville opened the debate, stating that the Ministers regarded the vote rejecting the preamble a grave affair, but were unwilling to prevent the consideration of other amendments, and were anxious to conduct the discussion in a peaceful and conciliatory spirit. Lord Cairns said, that since the adjournment he had had a conference with Lord Granville, and he moved to restore the original date of disestablishment, and compromise on other amendments.

Salisbury, Russell, and other leading peers, accepted the compromise and praised the conduct of Cairns in this emergency. The Lords then restored the original date and other amendments and compromised. Granville thanked Cairns for the frankness with which he entered into confidential relations with the ministry.

THE WOMEN OF PARIS.

Their Virtues and Their Vices.

A correspondent gives the following description of women in the French capital:

The women of Paris are far from handsome. A noticeably comely woman is a rare exception, either among the grisette or distingue class. Their style is not attractive. They have insipid noses, and not good complexions; and they often mar their faces by excess of rouge and by blackening their eyelashes, brows and lids. Their manners are engaging; but the women themselves are too artificial in every way. No man can determine, under ordinary circumstances, whether nature or the modiste made them. After he had won an angel, he can not be sure she will not melt under the ardor of his kisses into an unaesthetic mass of whalebone, cotton and sawdust. The prettiest French girl I have seen was the petite Raymonde, at the Bouffes Parisiennes, the other evening; and, though she seemed to owe almost as little to dress as Queen Godiva, on a certain memorable occasion, I shall never dare to guess how much of her symmetry was the inspiration of brain.

The woman here look best between nineteen and twenty. After twenty-five they grow tawny and shriveled, and old women in France are often too homely to live—which may be the reason they live so long. They don't become thin and over-spiritualized like the Americans, nor stout and pursuive like the English. They wither up and darken, until they bear a close resemblance to smoked herrings. The fairest of the sex are the demi-mondaines and coccottes, for the reason, no doubt, that they are exposed to more temptations through their attractiveness and vanity. No good looking girl can be kept in any hotel, store or shop in Paris for any length of time. She is always persuaded to lead the life of a lorette rather than earn her bread by honest industry. So much is this the case that pretty girls can hardly get a place here; for it is known they can't stay in it more than a few days. Their vanity is so easily excited—and they are singularly sentimental whatever their station in life—that when some designing fellow tells them that they are beautiful, and gives them a trinket, their head is fairly turned, and their usefulness as clerks is gone forever.

"Homely servants and saleswomen and accountants are in demand, and the demand is freely met, I judge, from the number of shallow, cross-eyed, wrinkled, ungainly creatures I encountered in the cafes, shops and theatres. It speaks ill for the virtues of this community, that a woman can't be attractive and keep a position in a public place. Thousands of girls are educated [illegible] hope of marriage. They do not want to work. They have an insatiable fondness for display, for admiration, for pleasure, for affection. The consequence is they go to the arms of the first man who pays well and kisses sweetly. Not trained to virtue without abhorrence or immunity, with a code of morals that exist, nowhere else, they follow a line of duty and pleasure without regret or remorse. If they sin much, they love much. Impetuous and sentimental pagans they are, when favor deserts and fortune frowns they kiss their faded flowers and their old love-letters, quote a phrase from Lamartine or Dumas, light the charcoal, and are at rest. Who blames them, poor creatures! They are more than [illegible] and all women [illegible]; and since life is always responsible for them, is cruel when he casts at them the smallest stone."

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.....JULY 24.

OUR JOB WORK.—THE CONSTITUTION Job Office, with its new and varied material, its new presses, new type and many kinds of paper and colored inks, is prepared to do work as cheap, as good, as stylish, and as quick as any other office in the South.

We are willing to compare specimens with anybody.

☞ Reading matter on every page.

☞ The International Convention of the Young Mens' Christian Association, at Portland, Maine, allows each Association to judge for itself the question of having lady members.

☞ The Atlanta CONSTITUTION is daily improving as a news paper. It is edited with industry and ability.—Griffin Star.

Thank you, kindly, Brother Fitch.

☞ The capital stock of the French cable is $6,000,000, in shares of $100 each. There are only seven subscribers—Hon. Robert Lowe, Cornelius Grinnell, E. J. Halsey, Julius Reuter, F. J. Griffiths, Julius Beer, all of London, and Baron Erlanger, the Paris Banker.

☞ A Georgia paper is called the Air-Line Eagle. It is a high-flier.—Chicago Republican.

The Republican must have been pushed for matter, when it made the above feeble sputter.

☞ The claims of American citizens against the Mexican government, already amount to $60,000,000, and will probably reach the big figure of $100,000,000. Of this huge sum, not over one-third are said to be valid.

CUBA.—General de Rodas, the Spanish leader, is infusing greater energy into the campaign against the insurgents. He has modified the blood-thirsty programme of his predecessors. The reverse that Jordan met, in which he was wounded, and the complete failure of the expedition from New York, has somewhat dampened the ardor. Disease has almost entirely stopped military operations.

☞ The New York Tribune, commenting upon the suggestion of the New Orleans Bee, for the Southern States to elect distinguished Northern Democrats, like Doolittle, Pendleton, Dixon, etc., for Congress, says that the question of citizenship would prevent, but that might be overcome, by these gentlemen emigrating, to satisfy their Southern friends. The Tribune seems highly tickled at its own humor. It adds, however, that, by such emigration, they would immediately become carpet-baggers, and that would prevent their filling the bill.

☞ Robert Toombs practices law intermittently at Washington, Georgia, and entertains a poor opinion of mankind.—N. Y. Tribune.

Old Greeley seems to have a special bliss in pegging away at Mr. Toombs. We learn that Mr. Toombs' "intermittent law practice" has paid him a cool $30,000 since the war; and we opine that his poor opinion of mankind, is directed to that special portion of the race of which Greeley is a type.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.—The Radicals are now plotting to thwart the late decisive election of Walker in Virginia. Colonel Whittlesey, editor of the Wells organ, has gotten up documents to prove fraud, with the idea of delaying the admission of the State, even if the election cannot be set aside.

This is simply characteristic specimen deviltry. One would imagine that the overwhelming character of the defeat, would pretty well satisfy any one, that the fraud that could manipulate such results must be beyond the reach of even Radical grasp. It is said, however, that Grant gives cold comfort to the plotters.

Raise Something Else Besides Cotton.

The New York Tribune, as quirky as an ancient spinster in its politics, when it steps out of its peculiar monomania, can say sensible things. Old Horace, away from his Radical crochets, has a sharp grasp of sense, and tells good notions. This much vexed theme of cotton planting has brought him out. He thus airs some sound ideas:

It has never been well with communities where a special crop arrogates all the rural honors and dominates over other agricultural interests. He who made the world, fitted it for great diversity of plants and crops, and no belt of the earth's surface is more exquisitely adapted to various and miscellaneous culture, than the cotton belt of our Union. It is a land where the fig and the peach may not side by side like twin cherries on one stem; where a crop of sweet potatoes may succeed a planting of round potatoes; where wheat may follow maize, and rice replace barley; where one may pluck in his garden an orange at breakfast, a watermelon after dinner and strawberries for tea. It was a misuse of that charming climate and that mellow soil to gash every acre of it with the turning plow, and pile all the surface into cotton ridges.

Horace then sums up the business condition of the South, and seems to think we are on the rise.

The present year is one of great material prosperity at the South. The prospect is that she will sell three million bales for as much money as six millions would have netted her in those old palmy days to which she will still gaze back with unfounded regret. Besides, she will have less pork to buy, less flour, not so many shoes, nor hats, lighter doctors' bills to settle. She pays smaller usury to the commission merchant, and much less to Northern hotel-keepers. With marvelous advantages of climate, with the irrepressible vigor and thrift of a race skilled in the imperial art, transmuting disaster into fortune, the South, so bankrupt in 1865, is now in a fair way to that opulence and power, to obtain which she madly strove to cut a bloody path with the sword.

A Racy Description—Pretty Hard on Asa Packer.

A little more than a year ago, in the sweltering heat of purgatorial Tammany, we first heard of Asa Packer. The fervid Perrine was calling the roll of States. Mr. Eaton, on behalf of "the sterling and gallant Democracy of the Keystone Commonwealth," had named the Hon. James C. English, as a candidate for the Presidency; Maine had nominated Gen. Hancock; Ohio had named Pendleton, the serene Tilden had broached the best butt of the season in Sanford E. Church; New Jersey had set up Joel Parker; and Pennsylvania was called. At once there rose upon the damp vision of that reeking auditory, a human form with both hands full of manuscript. It was not the "ancient mariner;" nor did he "fix" anybody "with his glittering eye." It was Judge Woodward of Pennsylvania, and he "fixed" the whole crowd with one of the most dismal obituaries that ever followed a politician home. Judge Woodward read his whole heap of manuscript through. He described his man before he named him.

Twenty minutes description—think of it—in manuscript—read slowly and deliberately—intoned at that—to an audience of seven or eight thousand—every man a rivulet of perspiration—all impatient for a ballot—in an atmosphere blue with blasphemy, and reeking with rum—just think of that man standing on a bench in Tammany Hall, amid surroundings drenched in his own sweat, reeling off a couple of columns of biographical stuff, and tying on the end of it all "the name of Asa Packer, of Pennsylvania." It was two miles of slow match to one fire-cracker—poor fire-cracker at that. When he concluded, there did not arise

"—so wild a yell,
As all the fiends from Heaven that fell
Had raised the Border Day of Doom."

No, there did not. It was too warm to yell—for Asa Packer; so nobody yelled. A few smiled—some in their seats—others at neighboring bars. It pains us to say, that in the buzz that went round all the reporters' tables when the gifted Woodward sat down, the only clearly distinguishable sentence was the conundrum that leaped with a very large H, from desk to desk, "Who in H is Asa Packer?"—Hartford Post.

SONTAG AND RACHEL.

A Graphic Picture of two Famous Women.

In The Galaxy, Mr. Richard Grant White writes of "The Age of Burlesque" like a young blood for whom the female form is full of fascination, and the glory of legs and spangles not a mere vision of schoolboy days. We have a calm confidence that his defense of the blondes comes too late to be of service to their failing fortunes. Much better than his strange appreciation of certain of Miss Lydia Thompson's jokes, are these recollections of two actresses of a very different rank.

Among the half-dozen actresses whom I have known, two, who are no longer living—Sontag and Rachel—left impressions upon me, as women, that I am sure will never be obscured by time's attrition. Both were of humble birth, and both were remarkable for the distinguished elegance of their manners; but with this difference, that Sontag, charming and elegant on the stage, was more charming and more elegant in private; while Rachel, who, behind the footlights, was the ideal of a queen or a great lady of the old school, in private, although courteous and well mannered, showed the stamp of her origin and her profession—how, I cannot tell, but there it was, unmistakably. Sontag, if she had been born Countess de Rossi or, for that matter, de Montmorenci, could not have shown in her personal bearing nobility of a higher, simpler type; but on the stage she was surpassed in this respect by the Jewess, who, as unable in private to conceal her breeding as her race, showed yet upon the stage the command and the graciousness of those who are born in the purple. Saying this, one day, to the late eccentric Count Gurowski, I was pleased and not surprised to have the curt reply, "Oui! Rachel is the one-ly grande dame on dthe tayahtre." Sontag, when I knew her, was a mature woman, and my senior by many years; and yet, notwithstanding this, and a knowledge of the world beside, that showed itself in all she did and said, and which rivaled that of her gambling husband, she seemed to me to diffuse around her all the influences of youth. A freshness as delicate as the first perfumes of early spring was hers, an unaffected softness of manner, that had the gratefulness of balm, and its virtue. She had the tenderness and crispness of youth, without its greenness. I have rarely met a girl of seventeen so young as Sontag was at forty-five. I have said nothing of her beauty; for that was well known to all men. And when I saw it still preserved, I then first recollected that I had heard of it before. I was old enough to know what woman's beauty was; but I had not heard of her hand, which was beautiful enough to worship, as we may worship all perfection. And this woman, so beautiful, so winning in her ways, so charming as a singer and an actress, was also clever in the most attractive form of female cleverness. She talked well, without scintentiousness and without learning; and she had humor, as much as becomes a truly feminine woman. I shall never forget her description of the pompous dullness of the dinners and the evenings at the country-houses of English noblemen and gentlemen to which she was invited, after her marriage with Count Rossi and her retirement from the stage. The essays in gallantry of men who had been fox-hunting or shooting all day, and who came home tired and hungry to get themselves up in festive apparel, and to eat a heavy dinner and to drink heavy wine, were not much to her taste; although, if she were half as lively under their infliction as she was describing it, she must have been a priceless creature amid all that dullness. Only one indication of her humble origin and of self-consciousness escaped her. I happened to mention that I had followed a procession in a large city, for the purpose of observing the people called out by its passage, and that I had found the prettiest women among those in the lower conditions of life: "Ah!" she said, slightly dropping here eyelids, "it is always so." Her sudden death, in Mexico, was generally attributed to poison; her husband, it is said, having thus avenged himself of her love for a tenor singer who was in their company. I have never believed this story. Count Rossi may not have been too good a man thus to relieve himself of a woman who, by her own exertions, had restored him, in a great measure at least, the fortune he had wasted; but she loved the unworthy husband for whom she labored.

Rachel talked more of the stage and of literature than Sontag did. She made an admission to me one evening, that was surprising. She had been playing Phædre with grandeur and great power over the emotions of her audience; but she spoke to me with a naturalness that she never surpassed on the stage, of her weariness of French tragedy, of its sentimentality, its prosiness, and its stilted verse. "Oh, that I had learned English, that I might play Shakespeare! but now it is too late."—"What, are you not satisfied with Racine, or even with Corneille?" "No; Corneille has moments, and one can make something out of Racine by much study of the best parts." I complimented her upon Phædre, which, although an unpleasant character, seemed to me one that gave scope for fine acting, etc., etc. I thirst for opportunity of doing something; but that boy," waving her hand, as if Hippolytus were present, "what does he do but spout nonsense! And that old man, with his monster (referring to Theramene's description of the death of Hippolyte,) and all the rest—how stupid (bete) it is! Give me Shakespeare."

"We have never done business with—RICHARDSON BRO.'S, advertising agents of New York, city. Lots printers, everywhere, "spot".—Iowa Constitution.

THE CONSTITUTION'S experience of the above firm, warrants us in endorsing the above.

EMIGRATION.

The German Press on the South.

To the Editor of the Courier-Journal:

I think it will interest your readers to learn how the Southern States are judged by the press in Germany. The Cologne Gazette (Kolnische Zeitung) contains, in a recent treatise headed "The Highroads of Travel in the United States," and written by its New York correspondent, the following passages. The writer, alluding to the probability of German emigration to the United States, thus expresses his views:

The unhappy Southerners are endeavoring to turn the tide of emigration to their shores. The South has, it is true, many natural advantages over the West, but the latter has the reputation of being a mine of wealth, and will still exercise her magnetic attraction for many a year to come. It is moreover, not advisible to go there, where the menace "that all Republicans shall rot on the highways," is made a fearful truth. During the last few weeks, two other members of the Georgia Legislature have been murdered, only because they were Republicans. Also, the prejudice against the negro population, whatever dreamers may say to the contrary, and the rudeness of the poorer whites of the South, will still deter any mass of emigration from streaming to the former slave States for sometime. The Ku Klux Klan is heard from again.

So much for the "Cologne Gazette," a leading newspaper of North Germany.

I wish to add that this opinion is but the expression of the general opinion held by the press and the public in Germany. And I attribute to this misrepresentation of the South, the manifest failure of all attempts to draw emigration on a larger scale to this part of the country. The true state of affairs is so little known, so great a odium is still connected with the name of "Slave States," as they are ostensibly called, that even official publications are issued on the part of the German governments cautioning all emigrants against agents from and emigration to the Southern States. All the German papers, no matter to what party they may belong at home, receive their inspiration through a Northern channel, and all efforts to induce German emigrants to settle southwards, will prove fruitless as long as the German press will discountenance such a course.

The same opinions towards the South are shared by the French papers.

H. R. STKOEMER.

These last were doubtless mainly women and children. We presume it would be near the mark to estimate that one-third of the total arrivals were of persons traveling on business or transiently visiting us, and that the actual increase to our numbers by immigration during these thirteen years, was just about 2,000,000.

SENATOR SPRAGUE ON COLFAX.—In his Fourth of July speech before the Free Masons of Scituate, Senator Sprague said:

But I cannot close without pointing to the recent exhibition in the presence of the whole people of the Vice President of the United States traveling and speaking in the interest of the powers I condemn. He reminds me of an ass who stole the habiliments of the king of the forest; for when he asserts that the country is prosperous and contented, he but shows the ears which prove his true character. He came among us more especially as the representative of the mighty West, a people not yet tide bound to the dictates of the moneyed aristocracy, or to customs and institutions founded upon it. But he joins counsel and co-operates with those powers which in themselves and in their representive capacity, are so in hostility to the independence and growth of the West. Let him and those who have induced him to degrade his high office to their level, be prepared to meet on the floor of the Senate, for the information of the people from whom he comes, his true character, and that of the alliance he has made.

EDITORIAL FRAGAGES.—It appears as the dog-days draw nigh, that the newspaper fraternity are becoming quite belligerent. Charlie Hancock, according to his own paper—the "unter Republican—has received a considerable thrashing, but Charlie published his antagonist as a great coward.

The fragrant Swayze has also had a "bout" with a Macon policeman, who undertook to cane him. According to the Macon Telegraph, Swayze got possession of the stick, and was about to "whale" his antagonist, when some officious intermeddlers separated the parties. We have received any intimations where the next editorial fight is to break out; but lest some wicked person may have evil designs upon us, we take this occasion to state, that we hold ourselves in readiness to "take back" anything we have said, or to say anything desired, that we have accidently omitted. Let us have peace.—Griffin Star.

THE FASHIONS AT NEWPORT.—No marked change has taken place in the fashions; trains are of immense length, though short dresses are frequently seen at the hotels of evenings. The hair is worn both higher and lower on the head, and in greater profusion than ever. Waste is much worn for morning dresses, and large, coat buttons when unbuttoned, expose the whole front of the [illegible] extent in the [illegible] furniture [illegible] in her necktie, bears my lady's initials fancifully entwined.

DISTRICT COLUMBIA.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Revenue, today, $3,000.

Rollins returns to-morrow.

It is stated that Boutwell will sell no more Gold, at present rates.

Boutwell and Stanton had a long interview to-day.

Arrangements are on foot for a World's Exposition of manufactures here next year.

Over half million dollars of bonds were issued to the Union Pacific Railroad, today.

The Custom authorities are not to interfere with the French cable.

The Treasury has advices that the owners of the sugar, recently seized in New Orleans, are unable to furnish the bonds required. The Department will order its confiscation and sale. The bond required is two hundred thousand dollars. The value of the property is between two and three hundred thousand dollars.

Boutwell has addressed a letter to the Comptroller of Currency, announcing that he has decided to permit the substitution of Ten-forties for Five-twenties, or exchange any gold bearing bonds now held, as security, for circulating notes, on the basis hitherto adopted. Ten-forties to be received at 85 per cent. of their par value, and all other gold bearing bonds at 90 per cent.

The six per cent. currency bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad, will not be received as security for the circulation of the National Banks, and an exchange of gold bearing bonds, is subject hereafter, to revision, if it shall be found that such an exchange is so frequent, as to become onerous to the Department. It is stated that Ryan and Courrier are organizing a Cuban expedition, to sail from Canadian waters.

Cubans here have official news to the 15th. The Spaniards made two attacks on Quesada and were repulsed in both instances, with a loss of over one hundred and fifty, and Quesada continues the siege before Puerto Principe. A portion of Jordan's command posted forty miles from St. Jago de Cuba was attacked by 1,200 Spaniards commanded by Valmesada in person. After three hours fighting the Spaniards withdrew. The Spaniards were reinforced, and renewed the attack next day, making three assaults, and losing heavily. Jordan commanded in the second day's fight. The Cuban loss was sixty-two, killed and wounded, including two officers. The Spanish loss was over 300. They made good their retreat to St. Jago de Cuba. The Cubans are in good spirits, and suffer but little from cholera and vomito, so prevalent among the Spaniards.

GREAT SALE AT WEST END DEPOT.

EXTRA PASSENGER TRAIN.

ON Wednesday, 28th inst., at 4½ o'clock, I will sell on the Block adjoining West End Depot, Twelve Residence and Business Lots, fronting on Whitehall, Gordon and Lee streets, one having a nice new Cottage on it. Plans in my office.

This property is in the business centre of that growing and prosperous young city, and will certainly very great advance in value in the future as it has been in the past. Terms: one-half cash—remainder in 60 days. Also, at the same time and place, I will sell for cash, a well inclosed 7½ Acre Lot, about half a mile from West End Depot, about midway between Gordon and Darby Roads, in fine cultivation, having on it a good, new two-room house, known as the Boyd property. An extra Train will leave the Railroad Crossing at 4 o'clock, precisely, to carry out everybody and return after the sale.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale 1,000 acres of land, known as the Tennille Farm. This fine tract of farm lies near the centre of the 4th district of Calhoun county, within a short distance of the depot for the Hainbridge, Cuthbert and Columbus Railroad, 20 miles south of Cuthbert. The lands are first quality oak and hickory, except two lots, which are first quality pine. None of the pine lands are cleared, but well timbered. There are 1,000 acres cleared and in a high state of cultivation. This farm is well watered, having a branch on every field, which stream is large enough to winter 200 head of cattle. The range continues on the farm. Improvements fair. Price reasonable. Terms easy. Plats to every lot indisputable. I live near the farm, and will take pleasure in showing the farm, or answer any questions by letter. FRANK L. PEPPER.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 24.

ATLANTA HIGH SCHOOL.—On Thursday night, the pupils of the Atlanta High School, met at the City Hall, for the purpose of declamation. A large number of citizens attended to witness the exercises. The Starlight Brass Band gave zest to the occasion by discoursing sweet-toned music. The following is a list of the declaimers and their subjects: Thomas Scrutchen, Prologue; Willie Hubbard, Faith Hope and Love; Robert Rodwine, The better Land; Clarke Davis, Our duties to our Country; Ben. Wright, The little Orator; Thomas Letson, The Storming of Monterey; Ben. Fuller, The Human Mind; John Lawshe, Heroes of the late War; Pierce Young, Republic or Monarchy; John Toy, The Victim; A. Oliver, Necessity of the Union as it Was; Walter Wallace, Best Means of Securing Peace; Mart. Berry, The Leap for Life; A. Marshall, The Murderer's Doom; Bartee Jones, Taking of Warsaw; Henry Black, Pleading at the Bar; Pl. Bell, The Raven; J. J. White, Sparticus to his fellow-Gladiators; James Robinson, Burr and Blennerhassett; W. F. Williams, Present Duties of Southern Young Men; M. M. Rabun, The Roman Soldier; J. M. Brown, The Murderer's Fortune; Lucian Smith, Macbriar's Speech to the Scottish Insurgents; A. C. Briscoe, Intellectual Power; H. C. Glenn, War of 1861; Theo. Brantly, Osmond's Dream; Charles Holtz, Epilogue.

The boys acquitted themselves finely, proving that the efforts of Messrs Janes & Richardson had been crowned with success.

"The Murderer's Doom," by Alexis Marshall, son of Rev. A. E. Marshall, was rendered by him with fine effect.

"The Raven," by Piromis Bell, was a decided gem. Young Bell is the son of Marcus A. Bell, Esq., and in early infancy displayed remarkable elocutionary powers. He is a natural orator.

Lucien Smith, son of Joe. S. Smith, Esq., gave in a spirited manner, "Macbriar's Speech to the Scottish Insurgents."

Theophilus Brantly, son of Rev. W. T. Brantly, D. D., in "Osmond's Dream," gave promise of high attainments as an orator. He has a fine voice, and with careful practice, will take a prominent position as a public speaker. Should he select the law as a profession, we predict great success for him—in fact, in any profession.

Our young friend Howell Cobb Glenn, son of Col. L. J. Glenn, showed that he was not unworthy of the name he bore, and in the "War of 1861," gave proof of his talent as a speaker. Like his predecessor, he is bound to achieve success in any field of operation, where pluck and genius can accomplish it.

"Intellectual Power" was rendered with intellectual power, by A. C. Briscoe; and the "Taking of Warsaw," by Bartee Jones, in a taking manner.

But why go on farther? We'll bet our bottom dollar on all of them.

The conversatione and soiree given by the pupils last night, at the school house on Houston street, was graced by a large number of beautiful ladies, and the time passed off very agreeably.

THE RAILROAD CONVENTION.—From the able report of John P. King, President of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, yesterday, we make the following extracts: After noticing the Superintendent's report, and that the road had declared 8 per cent. dividends, free of Government tax, President King says:

"The uncertainty of all railroad investments has been much increased by the growing policy of "State aid," in neighboring States as well as our own. No railroad built with the capital of the shareholders to satisfy the real wants of the country, can be long secure against rivalry and competition under the patronage of the State. No policy could be more unjust, or oppressive than the policy of State aid. It is a distinguishing feature in this policy, that the citizen, who has built his own enterprise, with his own means, is taxed to build up rival enterprises by which his own may be ruined. In other words, he is forced to contribute money for the destruction of his own property.

The effects of this policy are no longer left to theory. Proof is abundant that roads will be built with little regard to the wants of the public if men can organize and build them at the expense of the State. Hence, vast amounts of capital are wasted that might have been better employed—too apt to be followed by loss of credit, and the bankruptcy of the State, and general financial paralysis. Our road has suffered, and will perhaps suffer more from the effects of this pernicious policy in a neighboring State than in our own, though to some extent we suffer in both. Some roads are in progress which may affect our receipts injuriously and others beneficially. The roads which may affect us injuriously are the Selma, Rome and Dalton; North and South Alabama; and, perhaps to some extent, the Griffin and North Alabama railroads. Those from which we may derive benefit are the Montgomery and Selma; New Orleans and Mobile; the reconstruction of the Pensacola extension of the Alabama and Florida; Air-Line (if completed) and the Columbus and West Point Railroad, should it be built.

The President thinks that the receipts of the Road will be as much the coming year as last.

The operations of the Road have been conducted with great regularity, and the officers and employees have generally performed the duties assigned them with commendable zeal and fidelity.

The following Directors were elected: John P. King, H. Peters, F. Fillmore, W. E. Berry, John E. Robinson, John P. Moreland, and L. B. Loveland.

The full and concise report of the Superintendent will appear in our next.

Supreme Court--Evening Session.

W. C. BIBB.—W. C. Bibb, Esq., late of Alabama, announces in our columns, that he has taken the fire-proof warehouse of the Georgia Loan and Trust Company, on Broad street, and respectfully solicits the patronage of the public. He will make liberal cash advances on cotton, tobacco, grain, flour, and all other articles of merchandize, consigned for storage and sale, and fill all orders for the purchase of cotton and other articles of merchandise. Mr. Bibb comes to us with a reputation for integrity and moral worth, excelled by none.

KIRKWOOD PROPERTY.—A large crowd went down to the sale of lots at Kirkwood, yesterday evening. The first lot, containing 23 acres, was bought by Mr. Roland, at $60 per acre, or $1,380. The second lot, of 10 acres, was bid on by Col. L. Johnson, of Tuskegee, Ala., at $50 per acre, or $500. Col. S. A. Echols bought the third lot at $56 per acre, or $560. The fourth lot was bought by J. J. McKoy, at $47 per acre, or $470. 52 acres brought $2,960, or $54 42-52 per acre. We learn that all the purchasers contemplate erecting fine residences in a few months.

OUR VISITORS.—The city was thronged yesterday with the Stockholders of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, and their families, who came up to attend the Railroad Convention. We gladly welcome them to our city, and hope that they will visit Atlanta oftener than once a year.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—Galileo invented the telescope; Columbus discovered a new world, and to Professor Morse is due the credit of teaching the lightning how to talk, but it was reserved to Dr. J. Bradfield to penetrate the mystic depths of science, and drag therefrom the wonder of our century. The victory has been won, and woman is free.

The sale of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is unprecedented in the history of popular remedies, and thousands of certificates are coming in from grateful women, throughout the Union, attesting its powers and applauding its untold benefits to their sex. dtf

SAD OCCURRENCE.—A private letter from New Orleans under date of the 20th, conveys the sad intelligence that the young and beautiful wife of B. H. Watkins, (formerly of Augusta,) was that day buried in the cemetery. She had gone on a summer jaunt to the North, and while in New Jersey, died. We tender our sincere condolence to our afflicted friend.

☞ From the Army Hospital; the bloody battle-field, the mansion of the rich and the humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk; from the mountain-top, distant valley and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world, is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office:

I have been in the Army Hospital for fourteen months, speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. Three bottles have made me a well man.

GEORGIA

MUTUAL FIRE AND LIFE

Insurance Company,

MACON, GA.

Authorized Capital:::$500,000!

Certificate of authority issued by the Comptroller General, under Act of March 19, 1869, requiring one hundred thousand dollars cash capital.

COL. W. J. LAWTON, President, J. C. McBURNEY, Vice Pres't,
R. J. LIGHTFOOT, Secretary.

This Company is now prepared to issue all classes of Policies. In the Life Department it offers more liberal terms than any other company in this country.

It asks particular attention to the following prominent features:

1. It is a Home Company—a Southern Company, owned and managed by as able financiers as our State can produce.

2. All its policies are non-forfeiting, and so long as one dollar of premiums or dividends remain in the hands of the Company unearned, so long is the policy kept alive.

3. Its policies are incontestible, except for fraud,

4. Its policies contain no restrictions of either travel or occupation, and world-wide in its fullest sense.

5. As low a rate of premium as a due regard to safety will permit, and will compare with any other Mutual Company.

6. Thirty days grace allowed upon payment of renewal premiums, and the policy held good for that time.

7. One-half the premium remains a permanent loan on the policy, at legal interest, which loan it is confidently expected will be extinguished by dividends.

8. It is a Mutual Company; all the profits equitably divided among its policy holders.

9. Dividends declared annually, upon the contribution plan.

10. Females insured at same rates as males.

Feeling assured that the above features must commend this Company to the favorable consideration of the public, we respectfully ask an investigation of its merits, by those contemplating insurance, satisfied that we offer greater inducements than any other Company now extant.

Able Solicitors and local Agents wanted all over the country. Address,

J. C. McBURNEY,
Vice President, Macon, Ga.
Or

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., July 21, 1869.

Whereas, By an Act passed at the last session of the General Assembly of this State, entitled "An Act to provide for farming out the Penitentiary, and for other purposes," Messrs N. Hawkins, Samuel McConkle and L. Carrington, were appointed Commissioners to take an inventory of the property, stock, etc., in said Penitentiary, and,

Whereas, The said Commissioners have, as required by the said Act, transmitted to this Department such Inventory of property, stock, etc., together with the receipt of the Lessees of the Penitentiary for the same, and,

Whereas, The said Act provides that the State shall be relieved from all expense on account of said Penitentiary, except that of the salary of the Principal Keeper: Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That Overton H. Walton, Principal Keeper of the Penitentiary, do discharge and dismiss from the employ of the State, each and every employee heretofore connected with said Penitentiary, such dismissal to take effect from and after the receipt of this order. All Executive Orders heretofore issued making appointment of officers in said Penitentiary, except that of Principal Keeper, are hereby revoked; and persons named in said revoke orders will cease to be officers under the State Government, from and after the receipt by them of a duly certified copy of this order.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Executive Department, at the Capitol, in the city of Atlanta, the day and year first above written.

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR,

Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, or very little or none of the natural fluid escapes, the complexion becomes sallow, bowels, or face, a sort of greenish hue about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without Whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia, no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes HURRIED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION. The skin is flabby and a "doughy feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

Prepared and sold in any quantity, by

Price, $1.50 per Bottle.

☞ Sold by Druggists generally.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 29th, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with unbounded success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well.

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother in law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom." I do not hesitate to indorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, TROUP COUNTY.

This is to certify that I have examined the recipe of Dr. Joseph Bradfield, of this county, and, as a medical man, pronounce it to be a combination of Medicines of great merit in the treatment of all the diseases of females for which he recommends it. WM. P. BEASLEY, M. D.

LIVER MEDICINE,
Anodyne Pain Kill it.
ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,
AGUE PILLS
—AND—
Dysentery Cordial, Female Tonic,
—AND—
PURIFYING PILLS.

THE excellent Remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation, their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern climate having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are predisposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Liver Medicine and Anti-Bilious Pills strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache, Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia and all bodily pains of every kind use before like chaff before the wind.

If you have Indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form, or any other Chronic Diseases, use

Prophitt's Liver Medicine,

It is safe and reliable; pure Vegetable, and a liquid ready for use at any and all times. Price, $1 a bottle—33⅓ per cent. discount by the dozen bottles or more.

If you get Snake bit, use

PROPHITT'S PAIN KILL IT,

internal and external. If you have a fresh wound of any kind, use the PAIN KILL IT. If you get dog bit, apply the PAIN KILL IT.

DR. O. S. PROPHITT'S

Anti-Bilious Vegetable Pills,

Purgative and Febrifuge,

May be relied upon as a safe and efficient cathartic in all Febrile and Acute Diseases of all kinds.

DR. O. S. PROPHITT'S

VEGETABLE AGUE PILLS,

A safe and certain remedy for Ague and Fever, Chills and Fever, and all kinds of Periodical Diseases, and is reliable for all to take at any time.

DR. PROPHITT'S

COMPOUND DYSENTERY CORDIAL,

A safe and genuine remedy for all kinds of Bowel Disease, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux, &c., it may be given to all ages, and seized and at all times, with perfect safety, where there is anything of that kind indicated.

FEMALE TONIC,

AND

PURIFYING PILLS.

The Purifying Pills and Female Tonic are associated together as a full preparation, as you see in the Bills. We have given perfect satisfaction in my practice for the last twenty years, in all cases whether of long standing or recent date. The Pills may be taken in connection with the Tonic, or without the Tonic, as there may be indication for either. Such as Bowel, Swelling of the Feet or Legs, Dirty Yellow State of the Blood, or a Flab Feeling of the Muscles, as generally follow Fever, such as Chill and Fever.

All of the above Medicines are for sale by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the South and West. Call for

The Sword in the Sea.

BY F. O. TICKNOR

From the Constitutionalist.]

The billows plunge like steeds that bear
The knights with snowy crests;
The sea-winds blare like bugles, where
The Alabama rests!

Old glories from their splendor-mists
Salute with trump and hail
The Sword that held the ocean lists
Against the world in mail.

And down from Albion's turret-hills,
From terraced slopes of France,
The brave, bright wine of valor fills
This chalice of romance.

For here was honor's tourney-space,
The tilt-yard of the sea,
The battle-path of kingly wrath,
And kinglier courtesy.

And down the deeps, in sunless heaps,
The gold, the gem, the pearl,
In one broad blaze of splendor, belt
Great England like an Earl.

And there they rest, the princeliest
Of earth's regalia gems,
The starlight of the Southern Cross,
The sword of Raphael Semmes!

Pennon and plume the waves entomb
The proud hopes of the free,
In that great grave that Arthur gave
In guerdon to the sea.

No. 4 is Martha F. Smith, plaintiff in error, vs. Thos. J. Granberry, administrator, defendant in error. Injunction from Monroe. Lanier & Anderson, R. P. Trippe, for plaintiff in error. Cabaniss & Peeples, for defendant in error.

At the conclusion of Judge Cabaniss' argument, Court adjourned till 3 o'clock, P. M.

RAILROAD CONVENTION.—The stockholders of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, assembled at the City Hall, at 12 M., to-day, Hon J. P. King, President, in the Chair, W. P. Orme, Secretary. 7,350 shares were represented in person, and 529 by proxies. The annual reports of the Superintendent and President were read and adopted. The reports showed gross earnings, $130,986 41; gross expenses, $348,503 86; nett earnings, $119,161 78. Increase in freight, 14,045 tons. The road has run with great regularity. There has not been a single mail failure for three years.

Hon. Martin J. Crawford, of Columbus, made an able speech in behalf of the Columbus and West Point Railroad, setting forth its advantages in a strong and lucid light. A resolution that the Atlanta and West Point Railroad subscribe and build the Columbus road was referred to the Board of Directors with power to act. Seven Directors were elected, viz: J. P. King, R. Peters, F. Phinzy, A. J. Berry, Mr. Robinson, Dr. Moreland, and Mr. Lovelace, receiving nearly all the votes cast. At a meeting of the Board, J. P. King was re-elected President.

DELIGHTFUL CHEEK.

A Man Runs away with Another's Wife—After He gets tired of Her He Offers to Hand Her Over to Her Husband.

Despite the fact that the mercury in the thermometer is boiling and seething up toward the nineties, a delightful sense of coolness comes over us as we write the name of Peppin.

We have met some cool individuals in our day, but the frigidity of this man Peppin—we do not know what handle his respected progenitors prefixed to the family name—is something so far beyond and above all our experiences as to be positively delightful.

And this is the story of Peppin.

Not many moons ago, in fact, to be exact, sometime last spring, Mr. Peppin, with a lady who called herself Mrs. P., came to this city with a small stock of what an unsuspecting community supposed to be their own responsibilities, and settled in Seneca street.

They commenced housekeeping, and apparently lived in the enjoyment of much domestic happiness.

Six weeks ago Mr. Peppin disappeared.

Yesterday, a gentleman named Day arrived in this city in search of his wife and children, who, he informed our porter, had left him in Montreal last spring and run away with a man named Peppin.

He added, with what must be confessed was but mild indignation, that they also carried off most of his household effects.

Time went on, and he heard nothing of them.

About six weeks since, (and we can but admire Mr. Peppin's coolness) the latter individual made his appearance in Montreal, and called upon Mr. Day.

As if to add insult to injury, his head, at the time of the visit, was adorned with a hat which, last spring, Mr. Day was wont to delight himself by sporting on his way to church.

With the utmost nonchalance, Peppin shook hands with Day, and after sundry remarks about the beauty of the weather, how natural it seemed to be once more in Montreal, etc., he inquired if he wouldn't like to have his wife again.

Day is, we fear, eminently practical.

He could not raise to the sublime height of Peppin's effrontery, and calling in a policeman, had the gentleman arrested on a charge of stealing his hat and other valuables. Peppin is now languishing in a Montreal jail.

Thereupon Mr. Day started for this city, and after an anxious search yesterday, found that the wife and children abandoned by Peppin, left last Friday for St. Catharines.

He is very good about the matter. Says he doesn't care much about recovering his wife, but wants his children. He will leave to-day for St. Catharines in the hope of finding them there.

Mr. Peppin has no sympathy. Such cool effrontery as his, instead of bringing him to a Montreal jail, should entitle him to rank among the great railway kings of the day.—Buffalo Express, July 16

☞ A German named Carl Schell, married a yonng girl just from the Faderland, at Omaha, some three weeks ago, in a most peculiar manner. He purchased a pair of ear-bobs, put them in her ears, and informed the young lady that "this little ceremony constituted a marriage in America." After a week had passed he took them out, and informed her of apother piece of news, viz., "This little ceremony constitutes a divorce in America." He is now in jail for stealing a trunk.

☞ Josh Billings says: "When a young man ain't good for nothing else, I like tew see him have a gold headed cane. If he can't buy a cane, let him part his hair in he middle."

☞ White Pine papers chronicle a "good joke on the grasshoppers," which have come in millions to that barren spot, leaving the wheat fields of California to ripen gloriously.

Three of the negro boatmen attached to the Custom House boarding boat, were yesterday discharged for insubordination and incompetency and their places filled by better colored men.—Savannah Republican.

PYE HOUSE,
FORSYTH, GEORGIA.

HAVING taken charge of the New Hotel recently fitted up and furnished throughout with new and elegant furniture, I will spare no pains to make it a First Class Hotel. Every thing possible will be supplied with the best the country affords; and to persons from South & Middle Western Georgia, seeking pleasure or health, I would say, you will find no place in Upper or Middle Georgia, with better water, a more healthful climate, purer or more bracing air than in Forsyth. When you get off the train call for the Pye House Porter, who will be in attendance on arrival of each train.

DR.
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR
Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache, Constiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhœa, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, Hills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits.

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and frequently has a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the Liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator

For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time sleepy, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fruitful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Remember, the energy Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find great relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

DR. HUNTER

CONTINUES to treat all private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which renders some of the following effects: as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, constipation, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, noctural emissions, &c., totally prevented, or the vital powers, can be fully restored to health. Persons afflicted with this, or any other delicate, intricate, or long standing constitutional complaint, should give the Doctor a trial. He never fails.

The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full explanation of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, errors, and improprieties in married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising nine ample rooms, is elegantly furnished, and convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are boarding houses connected with the office that are pleasant with every convenience that can contribute to promote recovery, including medicated Vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own Laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlet at office free or by mail for two stamps. No matter who has failed, read what he says. Office No. 163 Third street, between Green and Walnut streets, near the Postoffice, Louisville. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. to 12 M.
